Fox Business reporter: 95% of Planned Parenthood's 'pregnancy services' were abortions

By Anna Bruzgulis on Tuesday, August 4th, 2015 at 11:54 a.m.

On July 21, in a speech on the House floor, Rep. Bill Johnson of Ohio said that “in 2013, abortions made up 94 percent of Planned Parenthood’s so-called pregnancy services.” This was after the release of undercover videos showing Planned Parenthood officials talking about procedures for collecting aborted fetal tissue for research.

Then, in a Senate floor speech on Aug. 3, Sen. Orrin Hatch of Utah, who cosponsored a failed bill to defund Planned Parenthood, also said that “abortion accounts for 94 percent of Planned Parenthood’s pregnancy services.”

Trump's border wall -- how much it will actually cost according to a

Size of the wall: 1,150 miles long; 40 feet high; 10 feet deep into the ground; 1 foot wide

Total volume of material: 11.2 million cubic yards

Materials: Approximately $8.7 billion in concrete (97 percent of the materials); approximately $3.6 billion in steel (3 percent of the materials)

Labor: Approximately $12.3 billion (given the labor costs on the original 654 miles of barriers we can assume a conservative 1:1 ratio of materials to labor)

Land acquisition: About 60 percent of the border is privately owned land. While the federal government has the power to take privately owned property for public purposes, it must provide "just compensation." Based on previous purchases from the 2006-2009 wall construction, the cost at most would be $300,000 per mile acquired, or approximately $200 million altogether.

Trump's border wall actually costs

In total, the actual physical cost of the wall is about $25 billion. That sounds like a ton of money. But it isn't just one person paying for it – the entirety of the U.S. taxpayer base would collectively foot the bill.

To put that in perspective, it could give 50,000 small businesses $500,000 each to get their businesses up and running. That would be pretty incredible. On the other hand, we spend a lot of money on some absolutely ridiculous things. The taxpayer-funded National Science Foundation gave almost \$200,000 to a researcher to study the gambling habits of monkeys. What was the result? Nonsensical animal testing and suffering so we could find out that monkeys like to gamble. Come on.

event, the wall won't work!

Nonsense. Illegal aliens cost American citizens more in three months than the wall will cost to build in its entirety. What's more, the available evidence suggests that walls are fantastically effective at arresting migrant flows.

To begin with: how much will Trump's wall cost to build?

In her informative piece, statistician Laura Tyson estimates that Trump's wall will come $25 billion to $30 billion. Tyson breaks her estimate down as follows:

the common citizen.

The federal government is currently engaged in the longest shutdown in U.S. history. According to CNN, the shutdown is the direct result of a "standoff over Trump's demand that Congress allocate $5.7 billion to build a wall at [the] US-Mexico border." President Trump's wall was not only a key point of his 2016 presidential campaign, but remains a heated political and moral issue.

Aside from Congress and the President's differing views on immigration policies and policing tactics, the cost of the wall is what worries me the most. Statist estimated in an opinion piece published by Fox News that the will cost approximately $25 billion, meaning that this $5.7 billion in funding is only the tip of the iceberg. The Editorial Board at The Press Democrat described it as "a ridiculous demand," in reference to both the cost and the impact that it will have on border security. The US national debt is currently 21 trillion dollars and increasing with each second, according to USDebtClock.org (you can watch the national debt rise on their website, or even on the mobile app). That comes out to 66 thousand dollars per citizen. Without clear statistics on the impact a wall would have, I'm left to wonder: what else could 5.7 billion dollars do? It may sound like a lot of money, but how much is it really? Here are four other ways that 5.7 billions dollars could be spent.

4.) Replace Flint, Michigan's water supply pipes — 103 times over

Flint, Michigan's old lead pipe water system combined with a new water supply lacking proper chemicals exposed 100,000 residents to lead poisoning, as The Guardian reports. The poisoning led to multiple deaths and affected the development of Flint's children. The Guardian reported that the city estimates it will cost $55 million to replace the city's old lead pipes.

3.) Build 215 brand new high schools, or 350 brand new elementary schools

School Planning and Management reported in July 2015 that the average cost spent on building a high school for 1000 students was $26.5 million, and the average cost of an elementary school for 624 students was $16.2 million.
